State Librarian PUSSIE CHASES ARMED FUGITIVE

Lemuel McMullen, Ex-Mountaineer, at Bay in Lamberson Settlement
North of Here.

WANTED FOR BEATING CHILD

Was Captured Once and Later Escaped, Working Ruse on Officer, Obtaining His Gun.

Residents in the northern part of Rush and Fayette and in the southern part of Henry and Wayne counties were in the throes of a man hunt last night and as yet have failed to capture Lemuel McMullen of Dublin, near the Wayne-Fayette county line, who is a fugitive from justice. He is charged with having beaten his children unmercifully and without cause. He is an ex-mountaineer and is considered to be a dangerous character. The officers had him in their custody once and he later escaped by working a ruse and compelling them to flee at the point of his shot gun.

According to dispatches from Dublin this morning, McMullen had fled to the Lamberson settlement, where his father-in-law, Dice Hollingsworth lives. A posse of constables and deputies have been searching the woods for him all morning, but without success.

McMullen is now believed to be in hiding in the bushes near the home of his father-in-law, southwest of Dublin, near the Rush-Fayette county line. Sheriff Meredith of Wayne county and his posse apparently traced McMullen and abandoned the chase after being repulsed by the belligerent attitude of the Hollingsworths.

Neighbors were aroused yesterday morning by the cries of the girl, who is deformed, as her father was beating her, and among the men who went to the scene were William Wampler, the Rev. Mr. Needham and Fred Hays. They succeeded in stopping McMullen and later filed an affidavit against him. Constable Raby of Dublin and a number of deputies found McMullen at work chopping wood on the farm of George Lamberson, in the Lamberson settlement, afterward, and he agreed to accompany them if the officers would allow him to get his rig, which he said was nearby. He was allowed to go for it, and he returned soon armed with a gun. After cursing the men, McMullen defied them to arrest him. The officers were not armed and they returned empty handed to Dublin.

Sheriff Raby enlisted the assistance of Marshal Driscoll and two additional deputies from Dublin yesterday and started for McMullen. He was found hidden in the woods north of there armed with a shot-gun and a brace of pistols. He refused to surrender and exchanged shots with deputy Johnson. The officers opened fire on McMullen again, but he escaped into a cornfield.

Sheriff Meredith was called and reinforced by Prosecutor Ladd and Chief of Police Gorman of Richmond and the party sought the fugitive at his father-in-law's home.

Men and boys walked the streets of Dublin carrying shotguns nearly all yesterday afternoon and mob law practically ruled the town.

McMullen is a Kentucky mountaineer and came to Dublin about ten years ago. His father-in-law is also a Kentuckian. McMullen is a poor man with a family of six children and is known to have treated them cruelly at times.

WILL BEGIN HIS CAMPAIGN SEPT. 1

W. O. Barnard, Republican Candidate For Congress From Sixth Will Make Speeches.

DATES DEPENDENT ON OTHERS

That he would start his campaign about September 1 was the statement of Judge William O. Barnard, congressman from the Sixth district while in the city Wednesday, says the Richmond Item. That is the time he said he would have to begin if he is to make as many speeches as he did during the last campaign, although he is a little undecided as to whether he will do so. Mr. Barnard said the exact time for his meetings rests in a large measure with the various speakers who will assist him.

ANOTHER BANNER CROP.

Another banner crop of wheat for this season is now going on record. John Frazier of the Flat Rock neighborhood claims to have raised the best general wheat crop in the country. He says that his whole yield of several acres will average thirty-five bushels to the acre, which is far above the average mentioned for a whole crop. Several farmers have had fields to go that high, but the other fields pulled the general average down. But here's where he goes everyone just one better. He has a field of twenty-five acres which averaged thirty-seven bushels. This is much better than most farmers expected for this year.

RUSHVILLE MAY HAVE A LIBRARY

Young Man, Who Once Lived Here, Will Erect One, When he Becomes a Millionaire.

IS ON THE ROAD TO RICHES Has Innovation in Particular Line of Business Which Promises to Revolutionize World.

Rushville may have a modern and up-to-date library, which will put to shame anything which Andy Carnegie has to offer, some day.

It all came about this way. A young man, who was at one time employed in this city and who, while here, married a prominent young woman of the city, said the other day while he was here on business that, when he became a millionaire, he would erect a library in Rushville, which would outshine anything in the State. He was sincere in his statement and the men who heard him make the avowal, expect to hold him to it when the proper time comes.

That sounds rather foolish to even expect anything like that to come to pass, but wonders never cease and it will not be a wonder if he is successful in the business in which he is now engaged. He is a very industrious young man and has always turned apparent failures into success on numerous occasions. If he does not reap a financial harvest with his present attempt, there will be some good excuses to offer.

This same young man, who made the apparently foolish offer is now engaged in a business which promises to revolutionize that particular branch in which he is working. To back up the argument, it might be stated that he only recently resigned from a firm, which is engaged in practically the same manufacturing that he is now working and which in five years, that it has been in existence, has amassed a fortune that makes it independent.

WINS FIRST RACE WAS EVER DRIVEN

King, Green Horse in Manilla Horseman's Stable, Takes Money in Field of 12 Starters.

MAKES HIS BEST MILE IN 2:18

Dave Wagoner, the Manilla horseman, has a stable of fast horses which look like winners on the half-mile tracks at the county fairs this year. He started the old race horse, J. G. S., who has been raced here a number of times, at the Montpelier county fair yesterday and finished well up in the money. Wagoner has great hopes for the old campaigner this season and believes that he will come through with several races to his credit. King, a new horse in the Wagoner stable, won a race at Montpelier Tuesday against twelve starters. His best time was 2:18. It was the first race the horse was ever driven and it is the belief of Wagoner that he performed creditably and will make even a better showing before the season closes.

County Auditor Jesse Stone has paid to the Auditor of State the money due him for the July distribution of the common school fund, and in return has received the amount due this county. FLAGMEN MUST WORK ON SUNDAY

Superintendent of C. H. & D. Writes That Commission Demands Sunday Watches at Crossings.

MEANS SEVEN DAYS OF LABOR

The division superintendent of the C. H. & D. has written City Clerk Tom Cauley informing him that it was impossible to permit the flagmen at Harrison, Jackson and Sexton street railway crossings a holiday on Sunday. When Dr. O. P. Dillon was killed one Sunday about two years ago at the Main street crossing of the C. H. & D. in his automobile a cry for Sunday flagmen was immediately started. As the result the city council passed an ordinance compelling the railroads to have Sunday flagmen. Recently the flagmen have been complaining of having to work seven days in the week, and the city council had begun to take steps to amend the ordinance so that it would apply only to Main and Perkins street, and one of the moves that they had made was to write to the superintendent of the C. H. & D., who on hearing of the contemplated change, writes that such an action would be impossible because of demands made by the railroad commission for Sunday watches.

—The Misses Agnes Ryan and Mary Murray of Indianapolis and Harry Tiven of Chicago were the guests of Dr. L. C. Kigin yesterday.

NAIL PIERCES IN EYE

Dora Newman Met With a Severe Accident.

Dora Newman, who resides in West First street, met with what might prove to be a serious accident this afternoon. He was driving a nail into a board, which he had laying on the ground in front of him, when one of the licks the nail flew up and struck him in the eye, piercing in the member to such an extent that Mr. Newman had to pull the nail out with his hand. The injury caused what Dr. W. C. Smith thinks will be only temporary tearing down of the power of sight; but still there is a possibility of the accident bringing permanent injury.

NEW KIND OF GRAFT BEING WORKED HERE

Young Man Seeks Permanent Boarding House and After One Meal Mysteriously Disappears.

HE HAD EMPLOYMENT HERE (?)

There is a new kind of a grafted in the city, but he is not here now. The general plan of the graft is different only in that the one attribute still remains—that of being able to tell a lie so that it sounds like the truth. The main difference between this new graft which was worked here one day this week and others is that nothing is gained even though the grafted man lie beautifully.

Tuesday about noon a well dressed young man called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wooster. He said that he had found employment at the Case lumber yard and planing mill and that he wished a place to board. He even gave his name and said that he would be here permanently. Mrs. Wooster never even went to the trouble to learn whether his story was true, but sat him down to a dinner of fried chicken, butter-bean pie and numerous other delicacies that are fit for a king. He left hurriedly after dinner in order to get to work on time. He has not been seen since. Investigation proved that he was never employed at Case's

"Big Wednesday" Was Marred by Nothing and Everything Moved Without a Hitch.

LARGEST CROWDS IN HISTORY

Balloon Ascension Was Made at Five O'clock Promptly—Guthries Were Big Attraction.

The general concensus of opinion today is that yesterday was the greatest and best attended "Big Wednesday" in the history of the unique and novel day in this city. Everyone of the various numbers of the program moved off on time and the day was run with the regularity of a clock. The crowds are conceded to be much larger than those that ever attended on any other big day in Rushville in recent years. All of the merchants had a record business, each one offering a bargain that induced people from all over the country to come here.

The remarkable promptness with which all of the various attractions were held was a very noticeable feature of the day. The balloon ascension, which was scheduled to take place at five o'clock, was held at just two minutes after the hour. They are, as a general rule, two hours late. At just two minutes after five o'clock, the immense bag of gas with the parachute and man attached arose in the heavens without a hitch in the whole proceedings. The aerial artist made a beautiful ascent and descent as well, making a daring leap in his parachute several hundred feet to the earth. The gas quickly escaped from the bag and it reached the earth before the balloonist. He made a safe landing about a mile east of the city.

The other attractions of the day were equally as good as the balloon ascension. Large crowds gathered on the streets to see the three members of the Guthrie family perform on an elevated stage and on the trapeze. Their work was highly commendable and was heartily appreciated by the audiences. Their daring work on the trapeze received rounds of applause, especially last night, when a large crowd witnessed the performance.

The band concert by the local band last night was one of the pleasing attractions of the big day. The local musical organization has received much favorable comment since it has been giving concerts on "Big Wednesday." They work untiringly to give good concerts and receive very little financial aid. They practice much of the time and always endeavor to give a program of entirely new numbers at each concert.

The large crowds yesterday was the most pleasing part of the whole day. The rain of the night before probably allowed many farmers to come, due to the fact that they could not work. All of the retail stores were busy all day taking care of the immense trade which was attracted here by the amusements offered and also by rare bargains to be found at the stores.

HARDING IS THE OHIO NOMINEE

Buckeye Republicans Name Editor to Head Ticket.

HOW COX PLAYED HIS HAND

When It Was Apparent That Brown, His Candidate, Was Not in It, Big Cincinnati Boss, to Gratify His Feud Against Taft and to Give Burton a Drubbing as Well, Threw His Forces Against Longworth.

Columbus, O., July 28.—With no more concern than a poker player casting aside his discards, George B. Cox, the burly Republican boss of Cincinnati, flung over Judge Oren Britt Brown of Dayton, his candidate for governor in the Republican state convention, and brought about the nomination of Warren G. Harding, editor of the Marion Star, and an old-time Foraker man. By this stroke Mr. Cox drubbed Senator Theodore E. Burton and prevented the nomination of Nicholas Longworth, ex-President Roosevelt's son-in-law, and the candidate most favored by Mr. Taft.

It happened on the third ballot. Temporary Chairman Longworth had turned the gavel over to Permanent Chairman Burton, the latter had delivered his speech, and John R. Malloy had called the roll of counties. The choice for governor on the first ballot was as follows:

Oren Britt Brown, 413; Warren G. Harding, 485; James R. Garfield, 73; Nicholas Longworth, 92. There being 1,066 delegates to the convention and 534 necessary to a choice, the first ballot was futile. The cast of the second ballot also resulted in no choice, as follows: Brown, 363; Harding, 497; Longworth, 164; Garfield, 38.

The Cuyahoga county delegation, engineered by Senator Burton, on the first ballot cast its 96 votes as follows: Brown, 10; Harding, 10, and Longworth, 76. On the second the delegation plumped its 96 votes solidly for Longworth.

Cox, at the head of the Hamilton county delegation, of which Longworth was a member, did not turn a hair. He knew he could nominate whom he chose for governor. He wanted Brown. Cox understood it all and did not blink an eyelid. Longworth was upon the platform sitting beside Permanent Chairman Burton, his newly found political foster father. The convention was in an uproar. The Cuyahoga county delegates were jumping about the convention hall, calling on the delegates to come out for Longworth on the third ballot, and many promised to do so.

The result of the third ballot was as follows: Harding, 746; Brown, 120; Longworth, 195; Garfield, 5. Cox had thrown the bulk of his force to Harding.

Francis W. Treadway, the present Republican lieutenant governor, was renominated by acclamation and the ticket completed as follows: For secretary of state, Granville W. Mooney of Ashtabula; treasurer, Ruby W. Archer of Belmont county; attorney general, Ulysses G. Denman of Lucas county; justices of supreme court, W. B. Crew of Morgan county, and A. N. Summers of Clark county; clerk of supreme court, John S. McNutt of Columbian county.

The standpat crowd under Senator Dick's leadership, outgeneraled the radicals in the resolution committee. Dick stole Garfield's thunder on state issues. The state planks in the Garfield platform were all inserted in Dick's platform. But the bulk of Dick's resolutions in this state platform plastered lavish praise on Taft, the tariff and the Ohio delegation in congress.

Acceptable to Taft.

Biddeford Pool, Me., July 28.—The news that Warren G. Harding had been nominated by the Buckeye Republicans came to President Taft by wireless from Beverly. The president told friends who met him that he considered Harding a good man to make the fight against Judson Harmon, the Democratic nominee. Mr. Taft thinks Harding is a forceful man and the best orator in Ohio except former Senator J. B. Foraker. He is entirely acceptable to the president, the friends of Mr. Taft said.

Has Rich Tax Dodgers

Severe censure approaching condemnation for the tax dodger is embodied in the report of the committee on delinquent taxes of the bureau of municipal research, says the Richmond Item. Rebuked especially are the wealthy and well to do citizens who report they have no money in banks, no accounts due them, no money on hand, and make it appear by their assessment sheets they are on the verge of poverty and privation. The committee was composed of Timothy Nicholson and N. C. Heironimus. The report was read at the last meeting of the bureau.

The information set forth in the report is substantiated by the records at the court house. A casual glance over the returns of their property as made by some of the wealthy citizens will show that they are penniless. Some of them report as much as $300 on hand, while others reply "none" to the question of the assessor as to how much money they have, or is due them.

"The man who neglects or refuses to pay the taxes levied against him shirks a duty he owes the State true enough, but he who gives false returns of his property to assessor not only shirks this duty, but commits perjury." This is one of the sentences from the report and shows the inquisitors' conviction, after looking over a number of assessment blanks. Fault is found with the single men and owners of personal property only, who have neglected or refused to pay their portions of the State's cost of maintenance, but the business men and merchants do not escape scathing rebuke in the following sentence from the report: "If the business and professional men of the city are so nearly destitute of cash on hand, money in bank or other resources as is shown by the assessment rolls, it is surprising that there is not widespread destitution."

The effects of a supposed spinster of Ft. Wayne, Ind., now deceased, show that she had been married since 1881, and the neighbors are said to be so overcome with chagrin over not having known about it before that they are almost ashamed to face one another—Ohio State Journal.

EUGENE V. DEBS

Socialist Leader Seriously Ill in a Minnesota Sanatorium.

Rochester, Minn., July 28.—E. V. Debs, the Socialist leader and one-time candidate for president of the United States, is in Rochester seeking medical treatment in a sanatorium. It is reported that his condition is serious, although the cause of his trouble cannot be learned and no one is allowed to see him. Mrs. Debs is with her husband.

THEY COULDN'T MAKE THEIR BIG DEAL GO
Englishmen Contemplated Gigantic Railway Merger.

New York, July 28.—One of the boldest ventures in American financial history and particularly in the history of American railroading has just come to grief, there having been yesterday transferred to Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of this city and a syndicate headed by them the bulk of a huge block of American railroad securities acquired in the past nine months by a British and Canadian syndicate headed by Dr. F. S. Pearson, one of the world's best-known engineers. The project was a reminder of Harriman in conception, however unlike him in execution. The money behind it, from the manner in which they carried on their operations, contemplated nothing more or less than a dominant interest in a chain of railroads extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts, including the following roads: Lehigh Valley, Wabash, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande, Western Pacific.

Just how far the syndicate got along with its purchases could not be learned. Now that the bulk of its holdings have been transferred at private sale, the extent of its operations may never be approximately known. But it is known that it bought heavily into Rock Island, Lehigh Valley, Wabash and Denver before its operations ceased, perforce, with the turn in the market in the early part of the year and the consequent steadily increasing disinclination of investors to go heavily into railroad securities until complicated legal and political problems were settled.

As a result of the transfer, Kuhn, Loeb & Co. find themselves in a position of influence in Rock Island and Lehigh Valley, two important companies in which they had never before been interested.

Rioting Grows Serious.

Columbus, O., July 28.—After three nights of rioting, as a result of the strike on the streetcar lines, Mayor Marshall has called on the governor's office for state troops. There have been over a hundred arrests during the three days and the saloons have been kept closed by the mayor. A score of persons have been injured.

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Disease.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin disease, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp.

He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. Wolcott will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin disease and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

It is difficult to tell these days whether Steve Fleming's bureau or the Taggart publicity bureau has the advantage in Indiana Democratic papers.

U. B. Hunt says Eighth district Republicans are getting in good shape for the campaign. He expects victory by a good margin in Randolph county, and declares that the right man can clean up in the Eighth district and defeat J. A. M. Adair for congress.

The Huntington News-Democrat speaks of John W. Kern as "that old war horse of Democracy whom every Democrat should delight to honor with his support." The phrase, "every Democrat," no doubt includes the Mysterious Eight who betrayed the "war horse" in 1909.

The Marion Chronicle, one of the staunchest and most "regular" Republican papers in Indiana, under the heading "Cannot Forgive," says this in its editorial columns:

"Two years ago when James E. Watson and James A. Hemenway were fighting for their political lives, they appealed, it is said, to one Albert J. Beveridge to arouse his friends in their behalf and also to actually enter the campaign in this State. But Albert J. was too busy making his "special train" trip over the country and having a "good time" to think about Watson and Hemenway. He could not have saved Watson and Hemenway—he can not even save himself this year—but he might have tried. The fact that he would not even try is one of the things that naturally is not forgiven by the two eminent regulars and their friends."

Only Half of a Tobacco Crop

Colonel Joel B. Fort, who is speaking in the interests of the tobacco pool, returned to Lexington Sunday from a ten-days tour of Kentucky and Ohio, says the Louisville Herald. When asked about the condition of the growing crop of tobacco, he said:

"I have been growing tobacco all of my life, and think that I have had experience enough to make me competent to judge the present condition of the crop. Since I have been here, more than two months, I have traveled over every part of the Burley growing section and have talked with tobacco growers from every county in the district.

"I have never seen the prospects for an average crop of tobacco as poor in all these years. I have seen tobacco come out of a dry spell into a rainy spell, and make fine tobacco. I have never seen it come out of an exceedingly wet spell into a dry spell and make a crop. In all my travels I have seen only one crop large enough to top. Ordinarily the bulk of the tobacco should have been topped by the fourth day of July.

"Hundreds of acres have been abandoned on account of the grass and the weeds during the wet spell. Hundreds of acres have been planted in late corn and millet, and the tobacco which has been cultivated, and from which grass has been taken, is still yellow, and shows no signs of growth. Hundreds of acres are blooming only a short distance from the ground, rendering the plant practically worthless."

When asked what was his estimate of the percentage of the crop, he said:

"Judging from what I have seen myself, and information that I have received, from reliable and competent sources, I am satisfied that there can not be possibly more than half a crop. Owing to the late season, and the impossibility of satisfactorily curing tobacco late, that which is produced will be of a very inferior quality.

"As to increased acreage, that is all bosh. That talk has been gotten up for the purpose of frightening the farmer and those who have tobacco in the pool.

"This will fail of its purpose. The managers of the Burley Tobacco So-

INTEREST IN WHEAT YIELD.

Owing to the great interest in the yield of the wheat crop in Rush county this season, especially this season, as it was feared that it would be a failure the Daily Republican is offering one year's subscription to the Daily Republican free for the best yield in the county and six months' subscription to the Daily free for the second best yield. The wheat must be up to the standard, which is fifty-eight pounds to the bushel. The conditions of the contest require that the farmer must mail to this office, the number of acres which he has harvested and the mean average in bushels per acre. It is also requested that the approximate date of threshing be given and also the place where the wheat was sold. It is urged that the matter be mailed so that no mistake will be made. In telephoning there is danger of the wrong figures being taken and an error being made in awarding the prizes. Please address to the "Wheat Contest Editor."

society well know that there is no surplus in the hands of the manufacturers, and short crop to follow in 1910 makes the excellent crop of 1909 now held in the pool a most valuable piece of property. These facts are being communicated to the poolers. Former dissatisfaction is disappearing, and the pool sentiment is growing rapidly.

"The idea of even discussing the question of cutting out the crop of 1911 is not only useless, but preposterous. No such condition can possibly confront the Burley growers for some years to come. The cut-out of 1908, with the short crop of 1910, and the manufacturers running low on stock, and now in need of the crop of 1909, places the situation beyond argument as to cutting out the crop of 1911.

"In my opinion, these good pool men, who are discussing cutting out 1911, would do well to leave off entirely the discussion of that question, and discuss the question of pooling up the crop of 1910 good and strong. I believe that this will be done as soon as the true situation is presented to the farmer."

Colonel Fort had a novel experience in Pendleton county Saturday night, and it serves to illustrate how vital the pooling issue is regarded in other sections. When he and Dr. C. F. Creechius arrived at Knoxville, Ky., they learned that services were to be held at the Christian church at the same hour that they had intended to speak. An agreement was readily entered by the minister and the church officers for a joint meeting, it being agreed that the minister should finish his service and then Fort could speak.

After the preacher had concluded, he announced that there were speakers present to advocate a humanitarian movement and he then introduced Colonel Fort, who took for his text "Man's Inhumanity to Man Makes Countless Mourn." And throughout his speech the good minister added earnest "Amens" to the many telling arguments which Colonel Fort made against the inhumanity of the tobacco trust. The church was well filled, and the congregation departed with many expressions of good will, pronouncing it one of the most helpful meetings ever held in Knoxville.

"As to increased acreage, that is all bosh. That talk has been gotten up for the purpose of frightening the farmer and those who have tobacco in the pool.

Threshing Dinners No Longer

Wheat threshing is beginning in earnest all over Rush county. But what a difference it is to the way the work was done a few years ago. The great "threshing dinners" are numbered with the past and the housewives, instead of having the hardest of labor, now have little to do but watch the work go on, and be ready to draw the cash when the grain goes to market.

Threshing is done by clubs of farmers nowadays and nearly always each man takes his dinner from home. It used to be, before the days of staw-stacker, clubs and other innovations, that the farmer's wife prepared meals for from twenty-five to one hundred persons. Not only the men doing the work had to be provided for, but even children of their families had their little feet under the tables, and it, too, was a favorite occasion for visitors. And the dinner that was served in those days! It was one of the delightful memories that faded not away.

The labor of threshing is nothing to what it was. The "tail end of the machine" does not have the terrors it possessed when the man with goggles and handkerchief over his mouth, standing waist deep in chaff, kept the straw from the end of the machine, and passed it back to other men, and they finally to the "stacker," always an expert in the community. But why dwell on the things gone by. "Let the dead past bury its dead."

When the week has gone by, with weather conditions favorable, it is believed that there will be very little wheat left standing in the shock in this county, as there are a large number of machines, all being the very best and latest improved and in a short time they can thresh out the ordinary sized crop.

It is now believed by many of the farmers that the yield will be much better than was at first thought, this being a very pleasant surprise.

Dog Days Have Arrived

Dog days start officially this month says an exchange. They continue until about September 20. During the period of 60 days dogs and domestic animals of all description, suffer most from the excessive heat.

But if the few "don'ts" contained here are followed, you will not only be giving comfort to your dog, a very good friend of yours, if he's any dog at all; but you will also be playing safe for yourself and everyone in your family.

The first one, "Don't kick a dog," is not only a suggestion for the safety of your own anatomy, but is also humane. A kick may injure a dog internally, causing it pain for life.

Don't club a dog into insensibility if he happens to get "mixed up" in a fight with another dog. If you are convinced that the dog has actually gone mad, kill him.

Chain your dog up in a cool, shady place if he becomes vicious during dog days. If he is permanently so kill him. Chloroforming instead of shooting is advocated when killing a dog becomes delirious.

Don't be cruel to fighting dogs. Grab them by the back and pull them apart. Striking an angry dog may cause him to bite.

There is no more reason for dogs becoming infected with the rabies bacilli in summer than in cold weather. A dog must be infected with the germ by direct inoculation by biting, so don't let your dog roam and he will not be infected.

Remember we grade your wheat better, cut the price less for poor wheat and pay more than any grain firm in Rush county or any other county. Come and see us. T. H. Reed & Son 11212

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

NOT THE FIRST ONE.

(New Castle Courier.)

They say that Tom Geraghty is not the first to wonder about the "nip" part of the club's name, but it'll all "come out in the wash."

CIRCUS HORSE KILLED.

(New Castle Courier.)

Wallace's shows went from here to Wabash and at the close of the parade at the show grounds there was the usual disorderly, yet well directed mixup. One of the fine horses used in drawing the heavy wagons got in the way of an elephant and the big beast stepped on one of its legs, grinding it to a pulp. The horse was quickly killed and fed to the lions, showing that nothing is allowed to go to waste with a circus.

A COMPARISON.

(Rochester Sentinel.)

When a good looking woman from the country climbs into a buggy, the stockings she shows do not fit as trim as those shown in muddy weather by the town woman. The reason is that the country woman has rolls of bills stuck in her hose that she has received from her chickens, eggs and produce. You don't see any such wads under the town woman's hose. They fit close and trim, for she has a few dimes, coppers, a lot of samples, a powder rag, all in a thing the size of a man's suit case, that she carries under her arm for a bluff.

MYSTERY IN FIND.

(Shelbyville Demoerat.)

The mysterious discovery of several valuable pieces of silverware in a barn near St. Paul has created a mild sensation among the people of the vicinity. Up to the present time no owner has appeared for the silver and it is generally believed that persons who stole it placed it in the barn expecting to return later and get it.

The silverware was found at the noon hour Monday by Frank Palmeron, a farmer residing a mile and a half north of St. Paul. He had gone to his barn to harness a team of horses and noticed a piece of paper above the kicking boards when he took the harness from its peg. The paper aroused his curiosity and an investigation brought to light a heavy package wrapped in a copy of the Indianapolis Star. Inside he found a number of different pieces of silverware. At first he believed that his wife had purchased the articles and had forgotten to take them into the house and he was at a loss to know where the package came from when she stated that she had made no such purchase. Mr. Palmeron later in the day took the package to St. Paul, where he left it in charge of Squire William Embry with instructions to the latter to turn it over to anyone who could identify the silver.

"My Wife and Children Shall Not Starve" is the title of the offering at the Vaudet theater this evening. It is a drama, set off by a plot of stirring character with a number of intense situations which appeal to the better nature. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand will present tonight part first of the well known play entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It is produced by the Vitagraph company. recital of her story, when all the time he held her secret in the table in his sitting-room. For there was still the paper on which he had copied the abbreviated directions.

"Wait here," he said sharply, and without answering the look of surprise on her face, hurried from the room and to the elevator. A few moments later he was back, the sheet of paper in his hand.

"I can't forgive my own stupidity," he said. "While I was puzzling over the bill this evening I copied the secret on a sheet of paper. When Poritol came I put it away in a drawer and forgot all about it. But here it is." He laid the paper on the little, useless onyx table that stood beside her chair.

She snatched it quickly and began to examine it closely.

"Perhaps you can imagine how those letters puzzled me," he volunteered.

"Hush!" she exclaimed; and then: "Oh, this is plain. You wouldn't know, of course, but I see it clearly. There is no time to lose."

"You are going to follow this clue now—tonight?"

"Maku will read it on the bill, and—oh, these Japanese! If you have one in your kitchen, you never know whether he's a jinrikisha man, a college student, or a vice-admiral."

"You will let me go with you?" Orme was trembling for the answer.

He was still in the dark, and did not know how far she would feel that she could accept his aid.

"I may need you, Mr. Orme," she said simply.

It pleased him that she brought up no question of possible inconvenience to him. With her, he realized, only direct relations were possible.

"How much of a journey is it?" he ventured to ask.

"Not very long. I intend to be mysterious about it." She smiled brightly. Her face had lighted up wonderfully since he gave her the paper that contained the secret of the bill.

But he knew that she must be tired; so he said: "Can't you send me alone on this errand? It may be late before it is done, and—"

"And I will not sit and rest while you do all the work. Besides, I can't forego the excitement of the chase."

He was selfishly glad in her answer. "Do we walk?" he asked.

"We will go in the motor," she said.

"Where is it?"

"I left it around the corner. The thought came to me that Mr. Poritol might be here, and I didn't wish him to recognize it."

Orme thought of the hard quest the girl had followed that day—battling for her father's interests. What kind of a man could that father be to let his daughter thus go into difficulties alone? But she had said that her father was unable to leave the house. Probably he did not know how serious the adventure might be. Or

"Yes, yes," she whispered. Her eyes were intent on his. They seemed to will him to remember. "What else was there?"

"Odd letters, which meant nothing to me. It's annoying, but I simply can't recall them. Believe me, I should like to."

"Perhaps you will a little later," she said. "I'm sorry to be such a bother to you."

"Bother!"

"But it does mean so much, the tracing of this bill."

"Shall we go to see Walsh?" he asked.

"I suppose so." She sighed. Apparently she was discouraged. "But even if he gives the information, it may be too late. The Japanese have the directions."

"But perhaps they will not be able to make them out," he suggested.

She smiled. "You don't know the Japanese," she said. "They are abominably clever at such things. I will venture that they are already on their way to the hiding-place."

"But even if the papers are in the pocket of one of them, it may be possible to steal them back."

"Hardly." She arose. "I fear that the one chance is the mere possibility that Maku couldn't read the directions. Then, if Walsh will speak out—"

"Now, let me say something," he said. "My name is Robert Orme. Apparently we have common friends in the Wallinghams. When I first saw you this afternoon, I felt that I might have a right to your acquaintance—a social right, if you like; a sympathetic right, I trust."

He held out his hand. She took it frankly, and the friendly pressure of her fine, firm palm sent the blood tingling through him.

"I am sorry," she said, "that I can't give you my name. It would be unfair just now—unfair to others; for if you knew who I am, it might give you a clue to the secret I guard."

"Some day, I hope, I may know," he said gravely. "But your present wish is my law. It is good of you to let me try to help you."

At the same instant they became conscious that their hands were still clasped. The girl blushed, and gently drew hers away.

"I shall call you Girl," Orme added.

"A name I like," she said. "My father uses it. Oh, if I only knew what that burglar wrote on the bill!"

Orme started. What a fool he had been! Here he was, trying to help the girl, forcing her to the long, tired has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a powerful remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

was the loss of the papers so desperate that even a daughter must run risks?

Together they went out to the street. Orme caught a dubious glance from the clerk, as they passed through the lobby, and he resented it. Surely anyone could see—

The girl led the way around the corner into a side street. There stood the car. He helped her in and without a word saw that she was restfully and comfortably placed in the seat next to the chauffeur's. She did not resist the implication of his mastery.

He cranked up, leaped to the seat beside her, and took the levers. "Which way, Girl?" he asked.

"North," she answered.

The big car swung out in the Lake Shore Drive and turned in the direction of Lincoln park.

CHAPTER V.

Evans, S. R.

The car ran silently through the park and out on the broad Sheridan road. Orme put on as much speed as was safe in a district where there were so many police. From time to time the girl indicated the direction with a word or two. She seemed to be using the opportunity to rest, for her attitude was relaxed.

The hour was about eleven, and the streets were as yet by no means deserted. As they swung along Orme was pleased by the transition from the ugliness of central Chicago to the beauty of suburbs—doubly beautiful by night. The great highway followed the lake, and occasionally, above the muffled hum of the motor, Orme could hear the lapping of the wavelets on the beach.

The girl roused herself. Her bearing was again confident and untired. "Have you been up this way before?" she asked.

"No, Girl."

"This is Buena park we are passing now. We shall soon reach the city limits."

Clouds had been gathering, and suddenly raindrops began to strike their faces. The girl drew her cloak most closely about her. Orme looked to see that she was protected, and she smiled back with a brave attempt at cheerful comradeship. "Don't worry about me," she said. "I'm quite dry." With that she leaned back and drew from the tonneau a light robe, which she threw about his shoulders.

The act was an act of partnership merely, but Orme let himself imagine an evidence of solicitude in her thoughtfulness. And then he demanded of himself almost angrily: "What right have I to think such thoughts? She has known me only an hour."

But to him that hour was as a year, so rich was its experience. He found himself recalling her every change of expression, her every characteristic gesture. "She has accepted me as a friend," he thought, warmly. But the joy of the thought was modified by the unwelcome reflection that the girl had had no choice. Still, he knew that, at least, she trusted him, or she would never have let him accompany her, even though she seriously needed protection.

They were passing a great cemetery. The shower had quickly ended. The white stones and monuments fled by the car like dim and frightened ghosts. And now the car swung along with fine houses, set back in roomy grounds, at the left, the lake at the right.

"Do you know this city?" the girl asked.

"I think not. Have we passed the Chicago limits?"

"Yes. We are in Evanston."

"Evanston!" Orme had a glimmer.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the advice of the doctor are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands with my private prescription of personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all dollars. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

OF THIS GAMEGary Man Advertised to Sell
Typewriters for $1.25.SENT RUBBER STAMP OUTFIT

On Complaint of Victims of Petty Swindle, Postoffice Inspectors Took a Hand in the Case of "Henry Boston & Co.", and Arrests Followed on Charge of Using Mails for Fraudulent Purposes.

Gary, Ind., July 28.—Postoffice Inspector Waltz arrested Frank Pesak in a South Chicago barber shop on a charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Pesak was brought to Gary, where the offense is alleged to have been committed. His attorneys waived a preliminary hearing and the man was released on bond. Pesak will be tried at Hammond before Judge A. B. Anderson of the United States district court.

With John Hannas, who is still at large, it is charged Pesak operated in Gary under the name of "Henry Boston & Co." The firm advertised broadcast in foreign newspapers that it had all of the latest typewriters for sale at $1.25 each. Several hundred Poles and Hungarians in Gary, Hammond and South Chicago sent their money and got a cheap rubber stamping outfit in return. Pesak and his partner did a land-office business.

BOND OF GOOD FAITH

It Is Thus That Miners Regard Fining Clause of Contract.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 28.—The referendum vote of the Indiana miners was 7,490 for approval and 5,664 for rejection of the fining clause as part of the wage contract. A heavy vote was polled, as usually not more than half the 17,000 miners of district No. 11 votes at elections of officers. The contract, for two years from April 1 last, will be drawn up at once and be signed by officials of the miners and the operators. The Indiana mines have been operated at larger capacity so far this year than ever before, partly because most of the Illinois mines have been idle. The autumn season will begin soon and the prospect is for a record output for the year 1910.

Speaking of the fining clause, President Van Horn of the miners, said it is made necessary because in the trial of the temporary contract, which contained no fining clause, the miners, he said, demonstrated that they would not comply with a contract unless penalized for breaking it. "Organized labor demands that a contract be obeyed, and the fining clause is but a bond of our good faith," he said.

BABY KILLED

Train Struck Baby Carriage Containing Twins, One of Whom Escapes.

Hammond, Ind., July 28.—The Erie flyer struck a baby carriage containing Joseph and Guido, aged one year, the twin sons of Mrs. Peter Montrelo, at the Griffith grade crossing, ten miles east of Hammond, and hurled the cab and its contents seventy-five feet in the air. Joseph was killed and Guido was playing in the sand near the tracks when trainmen reached him.

The mother was wheeling her children home and while crossing the tracks did not see the train approaching until it was upon her. She tried to push the cab over the track and jumped back herself. The baby carriage stopped directly in front of the rushing engine.

Will Enforce Ordinances.

South Bend, Ind., July 28.—The Grand Trunk Railway company has been notified that it will be protected in the running of all trains. At the suggestion of General McKee the local authorities have agreed to enforce the ordinances against jumping on moving trains, to compel all loafers to leave the company's right-of-way, to disperse all gatherings, and to see that the saloons in the troubled districts do not become meeting places.

Vandals Wreck Thresher.

Evansville, Ind., July 28.—The threshing machine of John Brenner was wrecked while being operated on the farm of Theodore White near Dale, Spencer county. Pieces of iron and railroad bolts that had been placed in the shocks of wheat were fed into the separator and the machine was demolished. Officers have been asked to investigate.

May Die From Mule Kick.

Washington, Ind., July 28.—Byron Foster suffered injuries that may prove fatal, when he was kicked in the abdomen by a fractious mule. He was unconscious several hours, and it is thought is internally injured.

A Boy and a Gun.

Brookville, Ind., July 28.—While putting a 44-caliber revolver away, Charles Rogers, aged eighteen, of Mt. Carmel, shot himself through the left thigh. Amputation will probably be necessary.

Census returns from Rock Island, Ill., show the population to be 24,335, an increase of 4,842 over 1900.

ARTHUR I. VORYS

Republican National Committeeman From State of Ohio.BRYAN RENEWS OPTION FIGHTWill Now Turn His Attention to Legislature.IS NOT CAST DOWN BY DEFEAT

Returning cheerful from the scene of His Deposition as Party Leader, the Commoner announces that His Energies Will Now Be Devoted to the Election of Option Candidates For the State Legislature.

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—Mr. Bryan will not bolt any of the nominees to be named at the direct primary Aug. 16, neither will he give up the fight to restore, as he puts it, control of the Democratic party in the state into the hands of men who are not brewers and distillers or their political agencies. His energies this year will be largely devoted to helping county option candidates for the legislature to election.

As the two political parties declared for direct legislation, county option, even had it succeeded this year, will be put out of politics within three years at the furthest. Meanwhile Mr. Bryan proposes to secure a state-wide organization of his own to bring down Governor Shallenberger as state leader next year.

Mr. Bryan was almost as cheerful as ever on his return from Grand Island. He said he expected defeat when he learned how so many of the delegates had been selected. It was easy for the liquor interests to control, and they had embraced the chance. He said he made the fight because it was his duty to save the party from defeat; that an espousal of the liquor cause or control by its chief beneficiaries would bring loss of leadership in the state, he regarded as but merely temporary. Apparently what he likes least is the opportunity it affords his enemies to taunt him. The only comment he made on the proposition was: "It is better to be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord than to dwell in the tents of the wicked."

THE CRIPPEN CASEThe Montrose, Spoken by Wireless, Does Not Mention It.

Montreal, July 28.—According to calculations made here by officials of the Canadian Pacific and the White Star line, the Laurentian, bearing Inspector Dow of the Scotland Yard police force, and the Montrose, on which are believed to be Dr. Crippen and the Le Neve girl, have passed each other. Officials of both companies are positive that no attempt would be made to transfer the London sleuth to the vessel which is supposed to be bearing his prey to Quebec.

There will be no action until one or the other of the ships reaches Father Point, where a pilot is taken on board and where a Dominion police inspector is waiting with a warrant to arrest Crippen and his companion should they be found aboard the Montrose.

No Reference to Crippen.

Father Point, Quebec, July 28.—In response to a Marconi message sent from here to the Royal George, Captain Harrison replied: "Have spoken to the steamer Montrose, which I passed, and received word that all was well on board, but no reference to the Crippen case whatever."

Word from Berlin conveys the information that General de Fonseca, president-elect of Brazil, who had intended extending his foreign tour to include a trip to America, has been advised by his physicians not to make the extra exertion, and will therefore not visit the United States.

MOSQUITOES NOT ELIGIBLE TO CLUB

Demonstrate Their Ability to "Come Back" And Many People Are Rubbing Bites as Result

NOT HERE MUCH THIS SUMMER

Ever since the more or less famous fight between one James J. Jeffries and one John Arthur Johnson, at Reno, on the nation's last birthday, the statement has been numerously made in every language where the copyright law applies that Jeffries "could not come back." Well perhaps he could not, but there is a fighter that demonstrated as late as last night that he could come back, and he came back several times. His name is Amos Quito, and his fighting name is "Skeeter."

Rushville has been comparatively free of mosquitos during the present summer. The familiar "slap, slap" of the tired residents as they sought relief from heated houses on their lawns each evening has not been heard this year. They came not singly or in couples, neither did they come in trios or in quartettes. Instead they came in companies, regiments and brigades, and here and there a whole army corps could be seen. Yes, the mosquitos have certainly come back. They have began their annual maneuvers—their regular war game.

JOHNS TO HAVE REUNION

FIVE HORSES ARE CREMATED IN FIRE

Early Morning Blaze in the Business Section of Charlottesville Causes Loss of $8,000.

UNABLE TO LEARN THE ORIGIN

The livery barn and implement store of Scott & Comstock at Charlottesville, on the Rush-Hancock county line, was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. Five valuable horses were cremated. The origin of the fire is unknown, and as there is no fire department there a volunteer bucket brigade made little headway in fighting the flames. The loss is estimated at $8,000, partially covered by insurance.

TAKE THE PAPER.

Once upon a time, a man was too economical to take a local paper and sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a watery squash.
"His cries reached his father who ran to his assistance, and failing to see a barbed wire fence ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of pants.
"The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, his wife ran out and in her hurry upset a four-gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens and drowned the whole flock. In her hurry she dropped a $7 set of false teeth.
"The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream into the parlor and ruined a $20 dollar carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the horses got out and the dog broke up a dozen setting hens.

CONTROVERSY IS EXPECTED THEN

Lewisville Officials Insist Pennsylvania Should Make Arch For Street When it Raises Grade.

KNIGHTSTOWN CASE SIMILAR

There are prospects that the town of Lewisville and the Pennsylvania Railroad company will become involved in a controversy over the double tracking through the town, as is the case between the railroad company and the town of Knightstown. At Lewisville the town board is determined that Williams street shall be opened and that the company shall install an arch under its tracks for the purpose when the higher grade is made. As yet the railroad company has not signified its willingness to have the street opened, which would mean an expensive arch, although an engineer of the company has been in consultation with the board. The street it is desired to open is Williams, which now ends at the depot. It is at the present time necessary to mount a grade to reach the level of the tracks, and as the grade of the tracks is to be made still higher, the people of Lewisville want the street opened under the tracks.

SAYS THAT HE IS NOT A DESERTER

Martin Fink of Connersville Writes From California That a Mis-take Has Been Made.

GIVES EXPLANATION IN LETTER

Was Sent From the Islands to the General Hospital For Treatment.

The News some weeks ago clipped an item from the Rushville Republican in which it was stated that Martin Fink of this city had deserted from the regular army in California, says the Connersville News. Relatives of Mr. Fink, at the time said there must be some mistake as they had but a few days previous received a letter from him at Fort Mason, California. Evidently they forwarded him the paper or clipping for today the News received a letter from Martin Fink enclosing the News clipping and fully explaining how the false rumor got abroad. His letter reads:

Please contradict an untrue report to the effect that I, Martin Fink, have deserted from the regular army.

I have many friends in Connersville and I don't care to be put in a bad light, as it is not true, but a mistake, I will explain:

I was sent home from the Islands to the General Hospital for treatment and was marked "duty; sent to Co. I, 30th infantry for station." Here is where the trouble came in. My papers were sent to the company a week or more before I got there as the doctor in my ward would not let me go just at that time. So my Co. was not notified and did not know where I was and I was dropped as a deserter.

It was a plain mistake and nothing else, so please correct that statement. The army has always given me a square deal and I expect to stay with it for some time. I have been with it for 12 years, in all the Islands, Cuba, Porto Rico, Honolulu and the Philippines Islands. I don't care to quit it just yet at least I will never desert as I can buy out for $30. I am here in Ft. Mason, Cal., now, doing duty with Co. I, 30th Inf. Am in no trouble at all, getting along fine, so please correct that false rumor and oblige.

HIGH PRICE OF HAY MAY CONTINUE

Farmers Say That Timothy is of Poor Quality Due to Damp Spring and Clover is Scarce.

LITTLE SEED TO BE PRODUCED

Farmers say that the present high price of hay may continue throughout next year. Timothy hay has begun, but because of the damp spring the fields are full of weeds and it will be of very poor quality. The market of Rush county timothy will be small. The present price is from $8 to $10 per ton. During the various harvests of the last few weeks there has been found a noticeable scarcity of bumble bees. This means, according to the farmers that little clover seed will be produced in the fall. Bumble bees are essential in pollinating the clover blossoms. Prices on clover seed will rise accordingly.

Entomologists say a small parasite is working on the young bees in the nests and that many are dying. Many thousand young bees have been sent to the United States island possessions to pollinate the American clover being grown there. These bees were placed in cold storage boxes being previously slightly numbed with the cold, in order to kill any microbes which might be on them. The method was found extremely successful.

Oats have not been better in many years. The crop is now being harvested and will average more than fifty bushels to the acre. The quality is good.

BY THE WAYSIDE

The person who is continually complaining about the high price of living is advised by an exchange to try dying and see where he will go. "He will find it is cheaper to live than to die. It costs ten cents for a shave when alive, and $1 when you can't kick. Twenty-five dollars will buy a good overcoat, but it takes $100 to buy a wooden one. The cemetery keeper will plant your potatoes for 20 cents per hour, but when it comes to plant you he will want four times that sum per hour. The liveryman will haul you to the theater for 50 cents, while the embalmer will charge thirty dollars. When we think about it we find the cost of staying in this country quite reasonable. Really we don't feel financially able to leave it.
